Self install

This client discovered that 3000 square metres of EcoGrid tiles that were originally to be used as council parking were to be covered over with a layer of soil and grassed, but not for parking.... what a waste!

Being an enterprising sort, the contractor arranged to collect the EcoGrid after seeking permission. He pulled the grids up in 1 metre widths and loaded them on to a lorry for re-delivery.

Being the owner of some land to the rear of an industrial estate, the EcoGrid tiles that had been reclaimed, made an ideal gravel filled parking system for a small capital outlay.

EcoGrid... made from recycled materials and fully recyclable!
